CONTENTS

Introduction ............................................................................................................................ 3

I. OBEDIENCE – LEARNING TO LISTEN ............................................................... 5
1.1 Dialogue of the Deaf and Constructive Dialogue ........................................... 5
1.2 Looking At the Obedient Christ ......................................................................... 6
1.3 Learning to Listen ................................................................................................. 7
1.4 So Where Are We At? ......................................................................................... 11

II. OBEDIENCE, SCHOOL OF LIBERTY .......................................................... 12
2.1 Fulfilment and Individual Liberty ................................................................. 12
2.2 A Look at the Renunciation Practiced By Claude Poullart des Places .......... 13
2.3 Obedience and Freedom .................................................................................. 15
2.4 So Where Are We At? ..................................................................................... 20

III. OBEDIENCE: THE PATH OF COMMUNION ............................................ 21
3.1 Obedience Face To Face With Individualism and Authoritarianism ............. 21
3.2 Father Libermann, a Catalyst of Communion .............................................. 22
3.3 The Vow of Obedience Favours the Growth of Unity and Communion .......... 24
3.4 So Where Are We At? ..................................................................................... 31
IV. OBEDIENCE AT THE SERVICE OF MISSION

4.1 The Mission That Has Been Received and Personal Projects

4.2 Mary’s ‘Yes’

4.3 Passion for Mission

4.4 So Where Are We At?