BIBLIOGRAPHY

Erratum: An error crept into the bibliography of our last issue (no. 7): the authors listed in the "Bibliographia Missionaria" for 1977 are the ones given at the bottom of page 64 and the top of page 65 in the French edition (at the bottom of page 61 and the top of page 62 in the English edition). In addition, we listed Father KIRKELS as C.S.Sp., whereas he is actually an O.M.I.

Father Walbert BUHLMANN, O.F.M.Cap., author of several works on the missions in general and those in Africa in particular, produced a volume last year entitled Missions Process in Addis Abeba. The process (trial) in question is that of the missions and the missionaries. The tribunal is imaginary and in the future. First there are brought forward, in the words of various authors – principally Africans –, the usual accusations against the activities of the missionaries. Then, other authors are cited who witness in favor of those activities. Among these, Father Albert THIELEMEIER, C.S.Sp., Assistant General, recalls the great missionary figures like Father Libermann, Bishop de Marion Brésillac, Cardinal Lavigerie, Blessed Mother Javouhey, Bishop Comboni, and others. At the end of the debate, the "Council of Wise Men" which presides over the court decided to put off the verdict sine die...

The author should have, after the model of St. Thomas' Summa, added to the videtur quod non and the sed contra and respondeo dicendum in which to deal justly with the attacks against the missions which, while sometimes based in fact, are more often than not greatly exaggerated.
