A Sabbatical at the Center for Spiritan Studies at Duquesne University
Spiritan Scholar in Residence

The Center for Spiritan Studies (CSS) at Duquesne University offers 2 scholarships for sabbatical in the 2016 academic year in the Spiritan Scholar in Residence Program (Spiritan Scholar).

The program is designed for Spiritans who wish to avail of the resources of the Center and the Gumberg Library to research various topics of the Spiritan charism and tradition. The program usually lasts from September to May. Duration and beginning times are flexible.

It is especially indicated for Spiritans who are or will be formators and professors in our houses of formation, teachers in secondary and tertiary institutions, and Spiritan missionaries seeking to recharge by delving deeper into their Spiritan roots.

Interested Spiritans need the approval of their competent superiors. Applications may be made to (and additional details may be obtained from) the following. Applications close by March 15, 2016.
