

Our Authors

John C. Bates, Esq. is a graduate of Duquesne University (B.A., M.A., and J.D.). He is the retired Associate Regional Counsel for the U.S. Department of Housing & Urban Development, a Member of the Board of Directors of The Catholic Historical Society of Western Pennsylvania, and a former president of the organization.

Michael Conway is a graduate of Duquesne University and completed four years of study while resident at the Pontifical North American College in Rome. He served as "Roman Correspondent" for The Catholic Historical Society of Western Pennsylvania during his time in the Eternal City. He was ordained a priest of the Diocese of Pittsburgh on June 28, 2014.

Paul Dvorchak is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh, with a M.A.T. from that university and a M.A. from Duquesne University. He served as Assistant Director of St. Joseph House of Hospitality in Pittsburgh 1987-2001 and as Director 2001-2012, retiring in 2012.

Katherine Koch is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and a summa cum laude graduate of Kent State University, with a B.S. in computer science. She is an independent scholar of Passionist history and Bavarian Catholicism in the World War II era. Ms. Koch has authored several essays about Fr. Viktor Koch for the Passionist Heritage Newsletter, and she is finishing a historical fiction novel about her relative's travails in Schwarzenfeld – presently titled The Sower of Blackfield. Additional information about the subject of her first article, Fr. Viktor Koch, is available at www.viktorkoch.com and at the Passionist historical archives website <http://cpprovince.org/archives>.

Rev. Rene Kollar, O.S.B., is Dean of the School of Humanities and Fine Arts at Saint Vincent College, professor of history at the College and professor of church history at Saint Vincent Seminary – all in Latrobe, Pennsylvania. An alumnus of Saint Vincent Preparatory School, he holds a Master of Divinity degree from Saint Vincent Seminary, and M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Maryland. He has written for many publications dealing with modern English and ecclesiastical history – including five books, an edited book, a documentary film, and more than 160 articles, book chapters and book reviews.

Blanche McGuire is a graduate of Baylor University (B.A., M.A.) and the University of Pittsburgh (MBA). She is a retired Senior Vice President of Marketing Strategy for Ketchum Directory Advertising. Her special interest is Catholic history in colonial Maryland and Pennsylvania. Many of her ancestors were Prince Gallitzin's parishioners. She is Acting President of The Catholic Historical Society of Western Pennsylvania as well as former President and Vice President. She is a published author.

Sister Georgine Scarpino, R.S.M., is a member of the Sisters of Mercy of Pittsburgh. She holds a B.A. from Carlow University, a M.S. from the University of Notre Dame, and a Ph.D. from the University of Pittsburgh Graduate School of Public and International Affairs. She also holds a secondary principal certification from the University of Pittsburgh. She served as Superior General of the Sisters of Mercy and as president of Mercy Hospital in Pittsburgh. She is a published author.

Charles Strauss is Assistant Professor of History at Mount St. Mary's University in Emmitsburg, MD. He holds a B.A. from the College of the Holy Cross, an M.A. from the University of Cape Town, and both an M.A. and a Ph.D. from the University of Notre Dame. His areas of interest include U.S. religious history, and global Catholicism.

Thomas White is Archivist and Curator of Special Collections at Duquesne University in Pittsburgh, PA. He has authored the history of the university's School of Business, and eight books dealing with ghosts; a ninth is set for publication in Fall 2014. He is a Member of the Board of Directors of The Catholic Historical Society of Western Pennsylvania, and a former president of the organization.

Dennis Wodzinski is Archivist of the Sisters of St. Francis of the Providence of God in Whitehall, PA. He holds a B.A. from John Carroll University and a M.A. from Duquesne University, both in the field of history. He occasionally serves as an adjunct instructor for the Duquesne University Classics Department.

Jerome M. Zufelt is Managing Director of the Office for Communications for the Diocese of Greensburg, and Editor of The Catholic Accent, the official diocesan newspaper.

Catholic Historical Society of Western Pennsylvania

On May 27, 2015 the Catholic Historical Society of Western Pennsylvania will celebrate the 75th anniversary of our organizational meeting held at St. Vincent College, Latrobe, Pennsylvania on that date in 1940. We plan a year of joyful celebration that begins with an anniversary Mass at St. Paul Cathedral on May 17, 2015 and concludes with a Spring 2016 Mass at St. Vincent Archabbey in Latrobe. During this special year, we plan to publish the complete series of Gathered Fragments along with the history of the CHSWP. We are also arranging special lectures to be announced at a later date.

Celebrates 75 Years

