It is fitting that DUQUESNE UNIVERSITY LAW REVIEW has designated this edition of its excellent periodical as a tribute to one of its most distinguished and honored alumni, the Honorable Austin L. Staley.

The United States Court of Appeals for the Third Judicial Circuit has been most fortunate to have been buttressed by Judge Staley's presence from the date of his appointment by President Truman on July 30, 1950 until his ascension to senior judge status on December 31, 1967. During his tenure Judge Staley has made an indelible contribution to federal jurisprudence, and it was indeed appropriate that on April 28, 1966, he attained the status of Chief Judge of the Third Circuit Court of Appeals at which he has served so honorably and productively.

As a United States District Judge for the Western District of Pennsylvania since 1945 and as Chief Judge of said court since 1951, I have been priveleged to associate with Judge Staley over these many years during which he has shown himself to be as warm, sincere and understanding as he is dedicated, purposeful and devoted to his judicial duties.

He has brought credit unto his university, his city and the United States Courts, but most of all unto himself and his family for his many valued contributions. I salute him on the occasion of this most deserved and signal honor.

* Chief Judge of the United States District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania.
