Duquesne Law Review

Volume 14, Number 4, Summer 1976

On the announcement of her retirement from the Duquesne University community, the members of the Duquesne Law Review dedicate this Symposium issue to Professor Elizabeth M. Scheib.

Elizabeth M. Scheib

*Rev. Henry J. McAnulty, C.S.Sp.

I have many fond recollections of Miss Elizabeth M. Scheib, beginning from the time she taught me English Literature and Latin when I myself was a freshman at Duquesne University. Though she had only begun her teaching career, she was one of the best instructors I had had in my time at Duquesne.

Since then, I have come to know and appreciate her efforts as an administrator, professor and librarian in our School of Law.

I know she is dedicated to the Holy Ghost Fathers and Brothers and to the University and for this I am most grateful. In my opinion her retirement will be a loss to the Duquesne community. However, I respect her decision and pray that the years ahead will be filled with many blessings.

To you, Betty, all the best in wishes and prayers.

* President, Duquesne University.
