

HELLO!

Welcome to our classroom family! We are so happy you are joining us on this journey of learning.

Greetings Families!

My name is Adelina DiTullio. I am so happy to be on this journey of learning together with your child and you. It is my hope this year to maintain a welcoming and engaging classroom community that allows your child to thrive in their academic, social, and emotional development. This includes you! I want you to know that I am always one call, email, or note away. We are partners in the classroom. I am here for you and want you to be involved and included within your child's education and within this classroom community.

"There is no doubt that when family engagement is developed in true partnership, it has the ability to positively impact student' academic, social and emotional growth, within the classroom"-Kelli Cedo (Scholastic)

Adelina DiTullio

I am studying Early Childhood Education at Duquesne University in Pittsburgh. I am going into my senior year and cannot wait for the opportunities within the classroom that lie in the year ahead. I am active on campus, holding an on-campus internship, executive board positions in a number of clubs, and membership in numerous organizations. I am committed to professional development and growth in the field, through my involvement in my educational organizations including Kappa Delta Epsilon, Pi Lambda Theta, the Council for Exceptional Children, the Duquesne University School of Education Association, and the Pennsylvania Association for the Education of Young Children. These organizations have taught me the importance of continuous, personal and professional growth. My love and passion for teaching started when I was young. Being the second oldest of five children, I grew up teaching my siblings. Watching them grow and learn sparked my love for the power of education. That drive for teaching continued to grow and led me to the classroom. I am dedicated to growth within the classroom, academically, physically, socially, and emotionally. I believe in the power of family and community within the classroom. I am so excited to partner with you, educating your children and watching them grow and develop throughout the year!

HELLO!

Welcome to our classroom family! We are so happy you are joining us on this journey of learning.

"One child, one teacher, one book, one pen can change the world" - Malala

My Commitment

Our goal for this classroom is to create a space that encompasses all students, their families, and our school. We value every child's individuality and ability. We believe that learning is a process and journey that we are on together. Our commitment is ultimately to the education, success, and achievement of your children. Above all else, we want to give your children the educational tools to thrive to their full potential. We are dedicated to your child, your family, and our classroom community. We are also committed to you. As parents, you have been and will always be your child's first teacher. By partnering together, we have the ability enhance learning within the classroom. We are committed to open and honest communication with you. We are committed to accessibility to you and your children. We are committed to patience, acceptance, and love. We are committed to this classroom and the community we will create within in.

IN THIS CLASSROOM

A poem a

"No significant learning can occur without a significant relationship" - James Comer

In this classroom we will grow
With each other and everyone must know,
We all have a place within this home,
where everyone is free to roam.

Our classroom is a safe place
For each of us to feel at ease.
Growth and knowledge we will chase,
Kindness and patience will be the keys.

Together we have the ability
To create a community.
One that fosters love and unity.
